Fixed Closing Dates

Some courses have fixed closing dates. These are usually courses that require interviews, folios, or auditions. In addition, some course requirements may be needed earlier than the closing date for applications. A list of most of these courses and their required closing dates or due dates can be found on pages 20 and 21 in the 2018 Year 12 QTAC Guide. Examples of early fixed closing dates:

- 8 August – Audition applications close for UQ Music degrees (including double degrees)
- 24 August– Audition and folio application for Queensland Conservatorium courses
- 31 August – QTAC applications and JCU Application Form submissions from international students for Bachelor of Dentistry and Bachelor of Medicine Bachelor of Surgery (see page 115 and 116 of the QTAC Guide).
- 14 September – Registration with QUT for Creative Industry courses with additional entry requirements (ie. Fashion, Design, Fine Arts – Visual Arts).

Note that, if you don't meet the due dates, you will not be considered for the course.

Upcoming Events:

8 August	Audition applications close for UQ Music degrees (including double degrees)
24 August	Audition and folio application for Queensland Conservatorium courses closes

How are Applicants Selected for Courses through QTAC?

2018 entry to many of the courses for which you can apply through QTAC is competitive. Consequently, many institutions use specific selection criteria to select students. Once institution admission rules are met (ie English Language Proficiency – automatic for most domestic students; age requirements – generally eighteen years or completion of Year 12), selection is based on:

- meeting minimum entry requirements for the course (these may include subject prerequisites - usually Authority subjects; a folio; an interview or audition; a specific test, an essay or questionnaire; the successful completion of a course), and
- merit (OPs and FPs, or a QTAC Selection Rank).

Through the QTAC process, eligible applicants (ie those who meet the entry requirements) are considered in order of merit (ie OP or QTAC Selection Rank). In very simplistic terms, the OP or Rank of the last person to get into the course before all places are filled becomes the lowest OP/Rank to receive an offer or minimum selection threshold for that course in that offer round. From 2020 QTAC will use a student's ATAR to rate their competitiveness for entry into a specific course.

How Will I Know I Have an Offer?

You get only one offer per offer round. This is for your highest eligible preference (ie the highest course on your preference list where you have met the minimum entry requirements and your OP/Rank is above the lowest OP/Rank to receive an offer). If you get an offer, QTAC will send you an email or SMS notifying you to log in to your QTAC application account to view, print, and respond to your offer.

Year 12 students could receive an offer anytime from 16 November (not including early offers through some university programs). It is essential that you monitor your emails and mobile phone (for an SMS) from 16 November until you firmly accept an offer.

If you receive an offer, you have four days to respond to it. If you don't respond by the due date, the offer will lapse and you will no longer be considered for any other course. If this happens, contact QTAC immediately. Remember to use your private email address NOT your school email address on your QTAC application.

Key Dates for the QTAC Application and Offer Process for 2018/19 (for Year 12 students)

Most of the following information and offer rounds can be accessed from the 2018 Year 12 Guide, p18 to p21.

Shift to ATAR from 2020

In 2020, the Australian Tertiary Admissions Rank (ATAR) will replace the Overall Position (OP) for competitive entry into tertiary study for Queensland Year 12s.

From 2020:

- Queensland Tertiary Admissions Centre (QTAC) will calculate ATARs for graduating students; and
- Each university will have its own unique admissions policy pertaining to acceptance of VET and VETiS qualifications for competitive entry to university courses. You will need to contact each university to gain further information regarding the use of your VET qualification.

Read more about the shift to ATAR on the QTAC site.

What is a QTAC Selection Rank?

A QTAC Selection Rank is:

- a number given to a qualification
- on a scale from 1 to 99 (highest/best)
- derived from a QTAC or institution specific schedule.

Your school Guidance Officer/Counsellor can show you a schedule that compares OPs with QTAC Selection Ranks. Examples of qualifications that may be allocated a QTAC Selection Rank for a 2018 Year 12 QTAC applicant include:

- OP-ineligible students are allocated a QTAC Selection Rank from results on their Senior Statement when they apply for tertiary courses through QTAC;
- Certificates III and IV, Diplomas; and
- Some music, dancing, and speech and drama qualifications.

These selection ranks will no longer be in use once the ATAR system is introduced in 2021.

Following Your Passion Could Make You Less Successful

Stanford researchers have found that this popular mantra could make you less successful because it implies that choosing what you love will make the path to success easy and narrows your ability to adapt to new opportunities. In effect, this primes people to give up more easily when they face challenges or roadblocks.

When deciding which career to focus on, focus on your strengths – areas where you would be able to adapt and bridge new ideas effectively. Your strengths are often linked with things you really like doing. Read the whole article here.

The Skills and Attributes Requested by Employers in Australia

The National Centre for Vocational Education Research (NCVER) has released research findings that set out the employability skills commonly requested by employers on online job advertisements. Download the infographic here.

Employment

Five Trends Shaping the Future of Work

An article on the Workforce Blueprint website suggests that, while there are jobs that will be taken over by robots and automation in the future (eg commercial pilots, legal work, technical writing, telemarketers, accountants, retail workers, and real estate sales agents), many other jobs will continue to be in demand. These include construction managers, medical and health services managers, sales representatives, registered nurses, market research and marketing specialists, software systems developers, teachers, and specialist physicians. But what about the jobs that don't exist yet? The article lists the following predicted jobs.

- Future Currency Speculator – a virtual currency market expert;
- Productivity Counsellor – to provide advice on a range of topics (eg wellness, time management) to help employees improve their value to employers;
- Microbial Balancer – needed to assess the composition of new forms of bacteria;
- Crowdfunding Specialist – expert advisers to help fundraisers promote their causes; and
- Privacy Consultant – an expert to manage and safeguard our digital information.

You can read the full article on the Workforce Blueprint website.

Opportunities with Drones and Unmanned Aerial Vehicles (UAVs)

The rising utility of drones in industry has carved out a new occupation: UAV pilots. These pilots operate, maintain, and repair UAVs used to gather data aurally. UAV pilots are also commonly known as drone pilots. CareerHQ sees this as a sector that is positive and likely to grow. To become a professional UAV pilot, you must obtain a UAV Controller's Certificate from Australia's Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA). This requires you to undertake a TAFE or Vocational course such as a Certificate III in Aviation \(Remote Pilot – Visual Line of Sight\).

Drones are becoming relevant across a large breadth of industries such as:

- Utilities (for high-risk inspections)
- Mining (for surveying and environmental impact research)
- Fast Food Delivery (investment in new delivery channels)
- Package Delivery (unmanned package delivery)
- Trades (for high-risk inspections)
- Real Estate (for aerial and panoramic photography)
- Wedding Photography (for aerial and unique photography)

Read more about the rise in demand for drone pilots here.

Social Enterprises

If you are passionate about an issue and you want to do something about it, a social enterprise might be the answer. A social enterprise is like a non-profit organisation or charity, but with one key difference. Rather than collecting money from sponsors and donations, a social enterprise takes the same approach to making money as a business. It sells a product or service and then spends the profits on supporting a cause. If this interests you, visit the Foundation for Young Australians website for tips on starting a social enterprise.

The Five 'Super Skills' You Need for Jobs of the Future

Job descriptions are changing rapidly as new technology disrupts old methods of business. The Institute of the Future (IFTF), a not-for-profit think tank that helps organisations plan for the future, has listed five 'super skills' that employees should master to compete and stay relevant in the marketplace:

1. Personal brand;
2. Digital fluency;
3. A tribe;
