6 steps to following your passion

When researching jobs people often tell you to 'follow your passion'. But what does this actually mean? Some people seem to know their passion right from the get-go, but don't worry if that's not you, or if your passion isn't career related. 'Following your passion' can come down to figuring out what you enjoy or love doing, then finding ways to bring this into your future job. You might research an industry you really care about, a job with more activities or tasks you enjoy and/or finding a project you find satisfying to do. Whether it's through a bigger change or a small one, finding what you're passionate about and pursuing it can make your working life more fulfilling. Seek suggests six key steps:

1. Self-evaluation
2. Explore the possibilities
3. Bounce your ideas off friends and family

8 ways to manage your money as a first-year uni student

You'll learn many new things during your university years, but several of those lessons will happen outside the classroom. As you grow comfortable living independently, you'll need to figure out how to maintain your lifestyle while planning for the future. Read The Good Universities Guide's eight ways to manage your money as a first-year university student so you can take control of your financial life.

Career road test

It's hard to sort through your ideas and options for study and jobs in your future. When buying a car, most people will shop around, look at different models and do a few test drives before making a decision. You can take the same approach when it comes to making decisions about your career. The Australian Government has developed a workbook that will help you investigate your chosen industry or occupation and then to think about how your research impacts on your career plans. Click here to access the booklet and start planning.

Does a course with a high ATAR guarantee better job prospects?

The Good Universities Guide has found that much of what students know about salaries and employability at graduation is guided by belief, rather than facts and figures. In general, students tend to choose courses with the highest entry requirement they can access with their ATAR. In theory, the higher the ATAR, the better the course and the better the employment outcome.

If you're a high-achieving student, you may be considering a course that has a high ATAR minimum threshold score. Perhaps you're re-considering your course options because you may not get the ATAR you had initially hoped for. Regardless, it's important to note that the ATAR minimum threshold for courses are an indication of the popularity of a course – it doesn't necessarily reflect how good your options will be once you graduate.

When looking at graduate outcomes, such as employment rate or a high starting salary, the courses with high ATAR requirements don't necessarily deliver the best outcomes— well, not straight away. Keep reading here.

Is VET for you?

Vocational Education and Training (VET) qualifications include certificates, diplomas and advanced diplomas, offered across a large number of industries and study areas. They offer many advantages — from pathway options to skill development. If you fit into one of the categories below, find out more about VET courses that could be your next step:

- You're looking for practical, hands-on training
- You're looking to qualify for a specific job or trade
- You're looking to 'try out' a study area before you commit to extensive study
- You're looking for a pathway to university study
- You're looking to add to your current skill set

Occupations can be in many different industries

'Occupation' is a word that refers to the type of work a person does, for example, a doctor, teacher or cabinet maker. 'Industry' refers to the main goods and services that are produced by a person's employer. Most occupations can be found in a number of industries. For example, while many cooks work in the Accommodation and Food Services industry, cooks are also employed in the Healthcare and Social Assistance industry in hospitals, childcare centres and aged care facilities. By understanding how flexible an occupation can be, you can broaden your options and increase your chances of finding the right career pathway. For information on different occupations, visit Job Outlook at joboutlook.gov.au. For information on apprenticeships and traineeships, visit AAPathways.

What types of institutions can I study at?

There's a lot to think about when you decide on tertiary study, such as which course interests you and which study mode will best fit your lifestyle, just to name a couple. Most important is choosing the type of education provider. Each institution is unique and you can be certain that each will deliver your chosen course in a different way and with a distinctive flavour. Click here to find out more, including the types of tertiary institutions and how to choose an institution and campus.

Jobs you may not know about including Radio Journalists, Inspectors and Regulatory Officers, Research and Development Managers

Radio Journalists collect and analyse facts about newsworthy events by interview, investigation and observation and write stories for radio news or current affairs programs. You usually need a bachelor degree in journalism, followed by a one-year cadetship involving on the job training, to work as a Radio Journalist.

Inspectors and Regulatory Officers administer and enforce government and corporate regulations and standards. You usually need a formal qualification and strong attention to detail to work as an Inspector or Regulatory Officer. Vocational Education and Training (VET) and university are both common study pathways.

Research and Development Managers plan, organise, direct, control and coordinate research and development activities within organisations. You usually need a university qualification in a related field and relevant industry experience to work as a Research and Development Manager.

The importance of digital skills

The The Australian Industry and Skills Committee's (AISC) National Skills Overview shows the current explosion in new technologies is reinventing the way businesses are run. This has significant implications for the workforce, which needs to evolve and be agile to keep up with this technological expansion. As a result, Digital skills are becoming increasingly important and a priority for many industries. These digital skills include coding and programming, exploring the world of cloud computing and the Internet of Things, and developing and using robotic and automation technologies.

You can learn more by visiting the National Skills Overview or the AISC Portal for more information.

Financial Assistance & Scholarships

Are you the next Co-op scholar?

Co-op scholars balance strong academic performance with their personal interests, professional development and community involvement throughout their time in the Program. To ensure scholars are prepared for this they look for a solid academic foundation from high school applicants. For a 2021 high school leaver entering the program the minimum academic requirement is an ATAR of 96 (or equivalent), OR entry into the chosen degree program at UNSW, whichever is the higher. No adjustment factors (except EAS) will be considered for this requirement. Click here for more scholarship and application information.

Away from Base - Diploma in Educational Studies, Tertiary Preparation Queensland

Available as part of ACU's Away from Base program, the Diploma in Educational Studies (Tertiary Preparation) allows Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander students to live and work in their local community, while studying and attending six on campus residentials, each lasting for a week at ACU's Brisbane Campus. This offering, which is available via direct entry application, is designed for those who want to undertake a pre-service teaching degree in early childhood, primary or secondary education.

Whilst undertaking this diploma, the Indigenous Higher Education Unit (Weemala) will support individuals to access additional resources which may include a study and financial assistance for residential stays, such as travel, accommodation and meal allowances. Successful completion of this course will guarantee entry into the Bachelor of Early Childhood (Birth to Five) and consideration for other bachelor programs. QTAC & Tertiary Entry

What is the ATAR?

QTAC is the body that calculates and provides Year 12 students with their Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR). The ATAR:

- Is the primary mechanism used nationally for tertiary admissions
- Indicates a student's position relative to other students
- Is a 2,000 point scale from 99.95 down to 0.00
- ATARs less than 30.00 are expressed as "30 and below"

QTAC calculated the first Queensland ATARs in December 2020 which brought Queensland in line with the rest of Australia. Thirty students received an ATAR of 99.95 with 16 different subjects including Biology, Chemistry, Economics, Engineering, English, English and Literature Extension, French, German, Italian, Latin, Literature, Mathematical Methods, Modern History, Philosophy and Reasoning, Physics and Specialist Maths. This list of subjects is NOT an indication of subjects that will guarantee a high ATAR. It has been included to show the wide range of subjects that students studied, did very well in and who received an excellent ATAR.

What subjects should you study to gain an excellent ATAR

Year 10 students and their parents often ask this question. The answer is, the subjects that you enjoy, have had past success in and meet any future tertiary course prerequisites. You want to get to the end of Year 12, receive your results and be able to say to yourself that they are the best results you could get while maintaining life balance and well being. The ATAR is a rank used by QTAC or your competitive entry into tertiary institution courses. It is NOT an indication of your 'intelligence' and future success and happiness in life.

Year 10 Guide

QTAC will produce a Year 10 Guide under the "My Path" tab on their website. Available as a free downloadable eBook, this Guide includes all listed university prerequisites and assumed knowledge needed to meet entry requirements for courses in 2024. It will also feature useful information for those students who are intending to pursue Apprenticeships, Traineeships, VET study or go straight to work. The Guide is also available to be purchased as a hard copy through the QTAC website.

English Language requirements for Nursing at all universities

As a Year 12 student, before you can be considered for a place in a Nursing or Midwifery course, the Australian Nursing and Midwifery Accreditation Council \(ANMAC\) requires that all applicants demonstrate their English language proficiency via one of the following options:

Option 1: English is your primary language AND you have attended and satisfactorily completed at least six years of primary and secondary education taught and assessed solely in English. At least two years of this education must have been between grades 7 and 12. This education must have been completed in one or more of the following countries: Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Republic of Ireland, South Africa, United Kingdom, United States of America. If this describes you, then you will need to complete a declaration confirming that you meet the requirements as described above.

Option 2: You do not meet the above option then you will need to sit an approved English language proficiency test. If this describes you, then you will need to sit one of the following approved English language proficiency tests and achieve the minimum scores: IELTS Academic, TOEFL iBT, PTE Academic, or OET. Before booking one of these tests, please check to see which tests are accepted by the institution you are applying to.

Bond University

2022 Year 12 entry

Bond University will support students by assessing applications based on their first semester Year 12 results. Year 12 early offers for 2022: How it works:

1. Complete Bond's direct online application, submitting results from your Semester 1 Year 12 report, as well as your Semester 1 and 2 Year 11 reports.
2. Bond University will assess your application and high school grades against the minimum entry requirements for Bond's undergraduate* and diploma programs.
3. If you meet the entry requirements, you receive an early offer that guarantees entry to Bond conditional on the completion of Year 12 and meeting any subject prerequisite requirements for your program.
4. When you successfully complete Year 12 and pass any prerequisite subjects, your offer becomes unconditional and you are officially a Bondy!

*Note: Bond's Medical Program is excluded from these revised entry requirements and you can APPLY NOW

Can I use a VET qualification for entry?

If you complete a VET qualification in school and successfully complete Year 12 (with or without an ATAR), Bond will consider your VET qualification for admission. You may be required to demonstrate English language proficiency by passing the English subject with a grade of C or better, or by undertaking an English proficiency test and achieving the required scores for entry. If you have also attained an ATAR, Bond University will consider the higher ranked of the two qualifications (ATAR or VET) for admission. Advanced standing (credit) may be provided in a similar undergraduate degree. Click here to read more.

Looking at applying for degrees at the Queensland Conservatorium

Applications for the Trimester 1 2022 intake will open in August 2021 through QTAC. Click here for more information on the application process. When you apply via QTAC you will select your preferred degree and/or specialisations:

- 251722 Bachelor of Music – applications close 31 August 2021
- 251782 Bachelor of Acting – applications close 31 August 2021

- 251772 Bachelor of Musical Theatre – applications close 31 August 2021.

You can choose up to three specialisations to audition for the Bachelor of Music. If you are interested in a Popular Music program they advise you to select one popular music specialisation only. Any additional Popular Music specialisations can be included in the one audition and no additional fee or audition is required. In the case of singer-songwriters, who often sing and self-accompany on an instrument, please nominate voice as your major instrument. However, if selecting any additional specialisations under other majors, a separate audition will be scheduled and additional fee required.

Pathways to Medicine webinar

Griffith University is holding a Pathways to Medicine webinar on 3 June for school leavers to help you discover the different options available as you plan your journey to a career in medicine. In this short webinar, Griffith experts will introduce you to the various entry pathways into the Doctor of Medicine, including the accelerated program for high-achieving school leavers. They will cover everything you need to know about Griffith's admissions criteria and selection processes. Register here.

University Campuses

Griffith University has five campuses that offer a range of undergraduate degrees. Depending on the degree you are interested in may determine which campus you will attend. Find out more about the various campuses and degrees by clicking on the links below.

Gold Coast is located at the Gold Coast and has a range of state-of-the-art facilities and offers teaching and research in almost all disciplines or study areas.

Logan is a community campus with a strong focus on community health, education and business. It specialises in flexible learning options for students.

Mt Gravatt is adjacent to Nathan campus and offers criminology and criminal justice, education and applied theatre and psychology.

Nathan is on the south side of Brisbane. It offers degrees in business and government, engineering and information technology, environment, humanities and languages, law and science and aviation.

South Bank is located in Brisbane's South Bank Parklands and includes the Queensland College of Art, the Queensland Conservatorium, Griffith Film School and Griffith Graduate Centre.

Using VET and other alternative qualifications for competitive entry to Griffith University

Griffith continues to accept standalone VET qualifications for current Year 12 or mature applicants. Griffith also recognises the skills and knowledge gained through Vocational Education and Training (VET) as a highly effective pathway to university. Students with a VET qualification completed at high school will continue to be considered for admission whether or not they are ATAR-eligible. QTAC will consider your VET qualification in conjunction with other senior subjects or as a stand alone qualification when you are applying for entry into Griffith courses. VET qualifications will not be accepted into certain Griffith courses/programs so check the link for more information.

Provisional entry – Doctor of Medicine (MD)

Applicants are now selected for full offers into the Provisional entry to Doctor of Medicine (9MD) using a merit order rank which is derived:

- percentile rank in the MMI (Multi-mini interview) = 50%
- percentile rank in the UCAT = 25%
- percentile rank in the Adjusted ATAR = 25%

Provisional entry into the MD will include the following criteria:

- Must be a recent Year 12 school leaver - applicants must have completed Grade 12 at their first attempt in the year of application.
- Adjusted ATAR of 95.00 (or equivalent) or higher) - adjustment factors will apply at UQ.
- UCAT ANZ score obtained in the year of application. - Aggregate score from the first four sections. - Section 5 will be used as a secondary differentiator between applicants with the same aggregate score.
- Section 1 will be used as a tertiary differentiator between applicants with the same Section 5 score
- MMI Interview – invitation to interview will be based on the ranking of the aggregate score from the first four sections of UCAT ANZ.
- Applicants will be ranked in merit order using their “final score”.
- MMI score will be used as a secondary differentiator between applicants with the same “final score”.
- Gain a minimum GPA of 5.00 in all study at UQ up to graduation with the first degree AND achieve a passing grade in subject prerequisite courses BIOM2011 and BIOM2012 (or equivalent).
- Rural Sub-Quota will still apply

Subject incentive scheme

If you've passed certain subjects or completed university study while at school, you may receive adjustments to boost your selection rank. The number of adjustments you're eligible for will depend on the courses you've completed. You can receive:

- 2 adjustments for achieving a grade of C or higher in Units 3 and 4 of an approved language other than English subject (or an equivalent subject from another approved senior program)
- 2 adjustments for achieving a grade of C or higher in Units 3 and 4 of Queensland Specialist Mathematics (or equivalent)
- 1 adjustment for successfully completing a university-level enrichment course concurrently with your senior program (e.g. our Enhanced Studies Program).

You can receive a maximum of 5 adjustments. If you're eligible for adjustments, your entry score will be converted to a selection rank. Any adjustments will be added to this rank. Each adjustment is equivalent to 1 rank. Click here for more information.

Undergraduate Law admissions scheme

If you're from an educationally disadvantaged or culturally diverse background, the UQ Undergraduate Law Admission Scheme may help you gain entry to their law programs. The scheme is open to Australian citizens or humanitarian visa holders who are currently in Year 12 or have done no more than one year of tertiary education. University of Southern Queensland

Diplomas are an option

It may be a little known fact but TAFE isn't the only place you can study diplomas. USQ's diplomas typically take 1 year and can serve as a stand-alone qualification or another way of beginning your study journey.

Click here to find a list of online diplomas that are offered at USQ including:

- Certificate of University Studies \(COUS\)
- Undergraduate Certificate of Engineering Fundamentals \(UCCE\)
- Undergraduate Certificate of Psychology Fundamentals \(UCCP\)
- Undergraduate Certificate of Spatial Science Fundamentals \(UCCS\)
- Diploma of University Studies \(DOUS\)

Double degree options

A double degree allows you to broaden your education and develop an interdisciplinary field of knowledge in less time than if you were to complete two separate degrees. Completing a double degree means you receive two testamurs (official certificates) – one for each of the degrees you complete when you graduate. They also offer combined degrees which offers you a single testamur (certificate) but allows you to combine studies in two different areas to give you a competitive edge.
